

Balancing Restoration and Renewal Tool

Once you've read the article that complements this worksheet, take some time to think about how you might be able to achieve recovery by balancing restoration and renewal. Use the table overleaf to focus your ideas or thinking. You might find it useful to jot down your notes on paper or on a whiteboard or flipchart. Once you've done that, think about using the 'T-Break Model' to explore or expand on your ideas.

Restore

Protect

Key value adding processes, what makes most difference for your customers and service users? What are your most important assets?

Prune

What activities can or must be curtailed in a targeted and focused way? Pruning means cutting back to the core in a measured way.

Preserve

Identify what makes your organisation, products, services or brand distinctive. How can they be preserved through any planned changes?

Renew

Plant

How can you grow based on existing strengths? Can you grow existing capability and plan new products or services once the crisis is over?

Pioneer

Are there options in new directions? Can you build on new skills, products, services, processes, ideas learned during the pandemic?

Persevere

How can you keep doing what you're already good at or keep looking for new ideas or opportunities? How can you stay positive and focused?